

CHEERFUL TONE IN WALL STREET

Trading Is General and Nearly All Shares Show an Advance.

FAILURE IS A RELIEF

Carnegie Trust Company Had Proved Itself a Nuisance for Years.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
New York, January 7.—Reading and the Gas shares continued as features of strength in Wall Street market today. Trading was more general than on the previous day, and nearly all shares advanced. Bonds were even more active than stocks, and the whole Wall Street atmosphere assumed a cheerful tone.

Failure of the Carnegie Trust Company came as a relief in the Wall Street district, where the institution has for the last four years been a constant nuisance because of its continually impending failure. It had no relations with Wall Street or the financial markets, but because of its name the public paid some attention to the Wall Street rumors that have for years surrounded it. The weakness in the stock market in the early part of the session was purely technical, and was not caused by the announcement of the trust company failure. Stocks were pried up eagerly on this news, and the market quickly resumed the upward movement, closing at the best prices.

The bank statement showed a gain of $1,000,000 in deposits, and a considerable increase in the late trading. Although this statement is never made public until after the close, the important fact in the street always known an hour in advance of what it will be. Stocks have been quiet, but strong throughout the week. The improvement has been more in sentiment than in figures. This improvement has also been very largely the result of technical conditions, and it cannot be fairly said that the really important interests are working for a higher market. The extent of their participation in an expression of willingness to see prices improve a few points. The same interests are working on the long side of the market that caused the October rise, but the less they learned in November is making them cautious, so that the present rise promises to be of a more conservative nature.

Further assurances have been received from responsible authorities at Washington that an early decision may be expected on railroad freight rates. Some of the commissioners have let it be known that they favor granting the increase and railroad men are accordingly expecting to get nearly all of what they asked for. So confident are they in this matter that they are preparing some very important bond issues to provide, however, and after the kind developed, but some of the more active members had sold off to a net loss of $1,000,000. The market firmed up on the 25th, and the price of the steel trust officials are awake to the situation, and the expected cut in prices of steel is postponed.

Announcement that President W. E. Corey would retire from the trust at the end of January establishes harmony at the headquarters of the Steel Corporation. Mr. Corey had been publicly advocating a reduction of prices for steel business, and this was a matter of opinion between the trust, and the differences of opinion became so great that Corey's retirement seemed to be a business matter of settlement. To prove his inconsistency, Mr. Corey is working heartily with the copper producers, who are restricting output to maintain prices of that metal. The copper producers are claiming that the report they will make next Tuesday will show a new material reduction of output. This will be glad tidings to the awakening copper producers of South America, Asia and Africa, who are grateful for the umbrella being held over their infant industry while it is being established. The Copper Producers' Association is preparing a way for 5 and 10 cent copper, which will be a great boon to the industrial world.
